Foreword

We are living in troublesome times and are facing new and untried experiences. Many things we have depended upon in the past will fail us now. But no matter what happens we know that our friends will not lose faith in us—they will be willing to help us at any time.

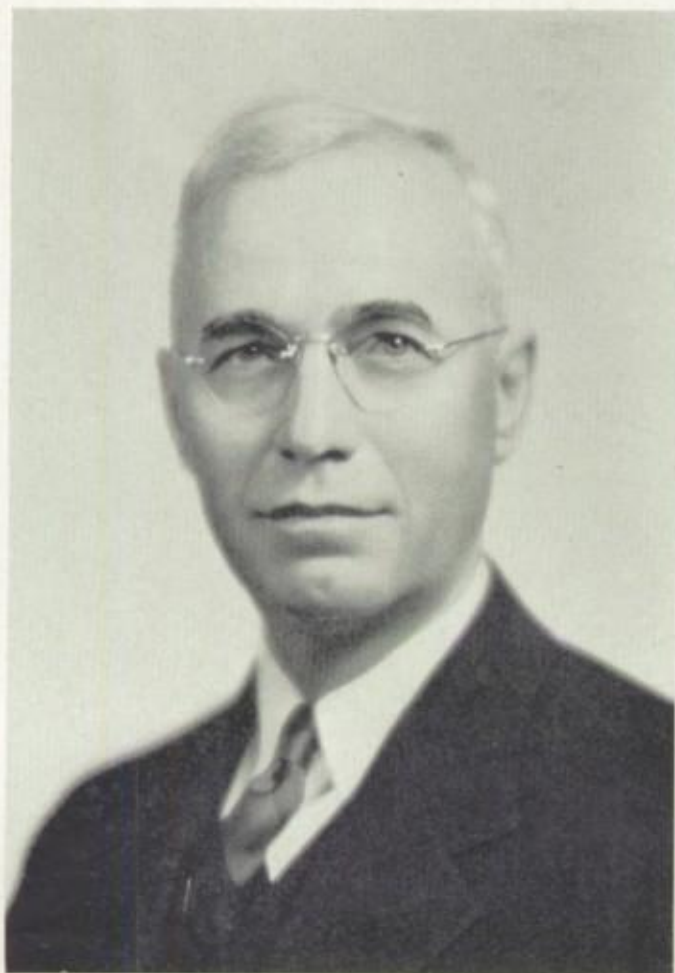

In thinking back over the past, the hours spent with friends stand out as the happiest. High school would not be the grand place it has been if it weren't for the friends we worked and played with every day.

Our friends will live on in our memories as the best part of the years we spent at North High. We therefore want to dedicate this volume of Hoofbeats to the friends that contributed so much to high school life.

Administration

E. W. MONTGOMERY

Superintendent E. W. Montgomery not only guides North Phoenix High administration with a very capable hand but also Phoenix Union High and Junior College with the same degree of success. Not the least of his many duties are those involving the study of students' problems and their solution—discovering what they need and how best to adjust the ever increasing complexities of modern education to those needs. Probably to him more than to any other one person goes the credit of maintaining the friendly feeling that exists between the sister high schools.

Under Their Leadership

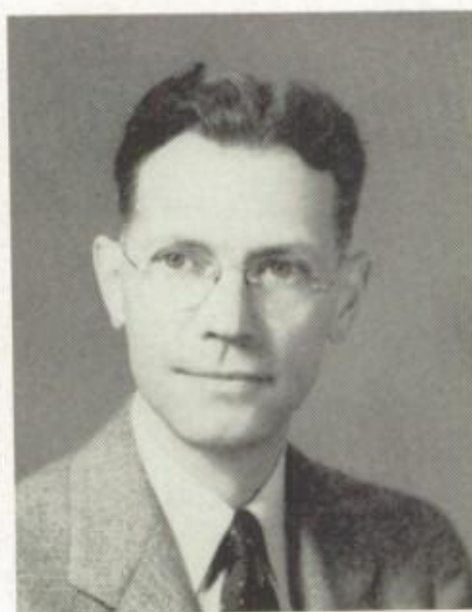

Three years ago North High was just a new school striving toward a seemingly far off goal of organization. Today that vision is a reality due in great part to the foresight and industry of one man, our principal, Mr. Loyd C. Elliott. Chiefly to him should go the credit for establishing North High's honor system. Mr. Elliott has also been instrumental in maintaining the high standard of cooperation that prevails between the student and teacher, in the desirable atmosphere of friendship within the framework of democratic processes.

Wise Planning

Of utmost importance in any school system is an efficient, far-seeing Board of Education. As a unit of the Phoenix Union High School District, North Phoenix High School is fortunately in the hands of a group of wise and friendly citizens whose time and energy are devoted to the best interest of the young people of the district.

Able administrators are equally important, so that the adopted policies may be carried out and so that education becomes real rather than theoretical. Dr. Eastburn is the Director of Research and Guidance for the system. Dr. Taylor assists the students at North High in his position as Student Counselor, and Mr. Olney is Curriculum Coordinator for the high schools.

Home And School

Few of us realize what an invaluable organization the Parent-Teachers Association really is. Did you know that they put aside a certain sum of money each year to buy graduation dresses for the girls in the graduating class who cannot afford them? This year they undertook the buying of our new school flag. They do many other things for us.

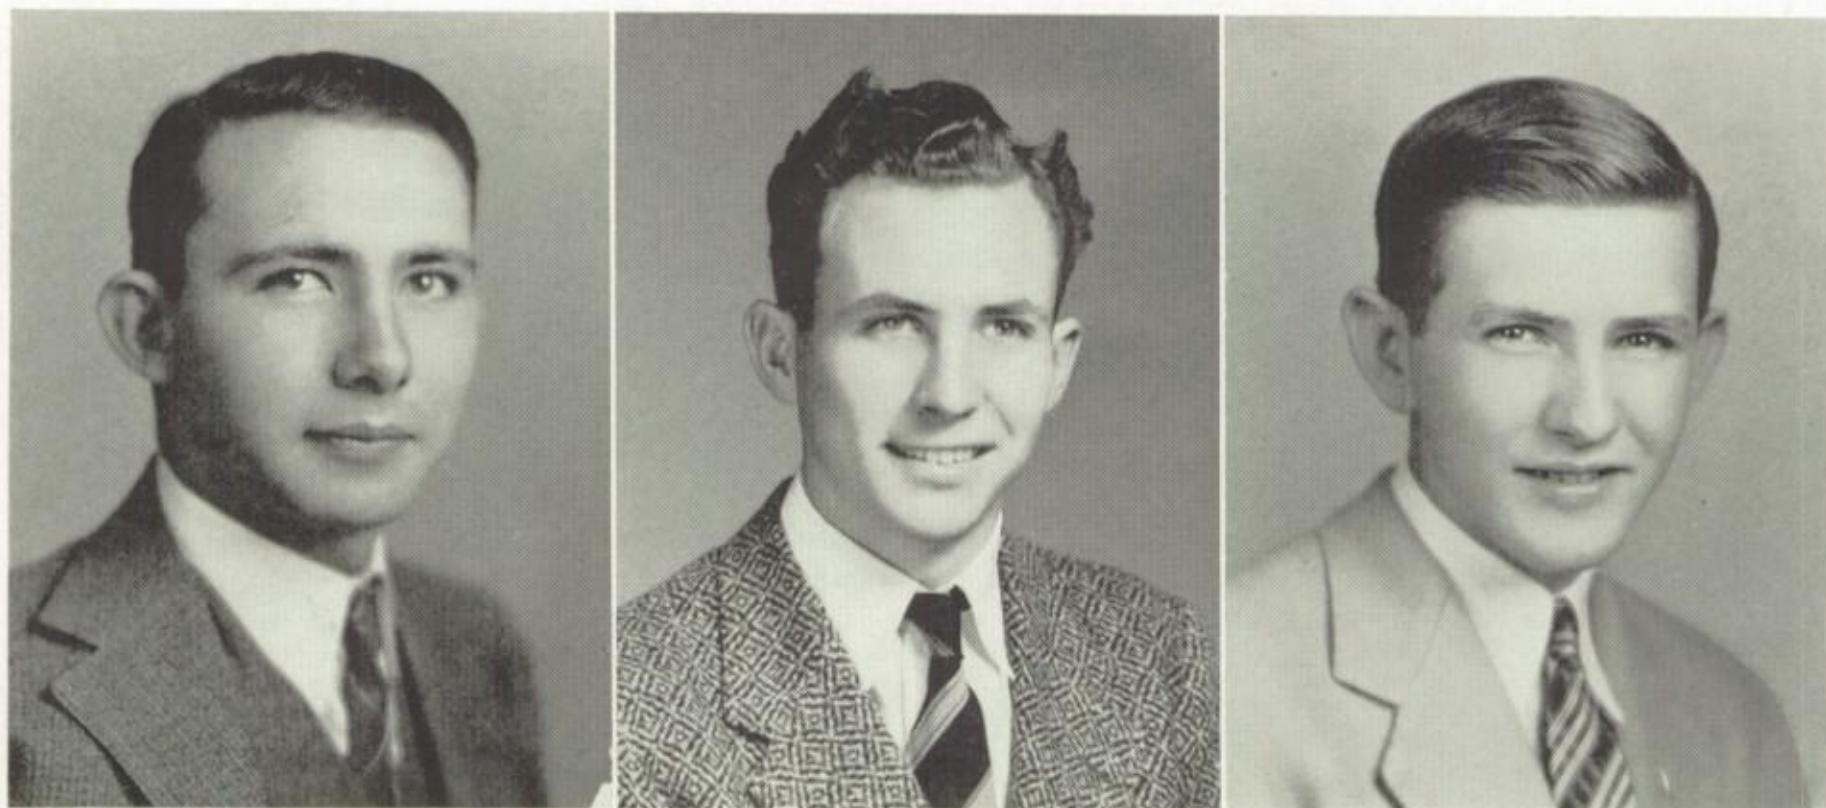

The home room mothers do a fine job too, visiting the home rooms, helping with parties, and giving the home room a "home" aspect.

Through the combined efforts of the P.-T.A. and home room mothers here at North High, we are a better school and we have gained much through their help.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS—Pat Garrity, President; Bob McIndoo, Vice-President; Jimmy Stiles, Secretary-Treasurer.

A New Experiment In Democracy

In the first year of North High's existence, 1939, it was necessary to organize a new school governmental program. Many ideas and suggestions were made and were discussed pro and con by students and faculty members. It was finally agreed that North High, as "The Honor School of the West," should adopt a democratic form of government fashioned after that of our United States. As a result, we have today executive, legislative, and judicial branches in our school government.

Unusually fine leadership in the executive branch has marked this year at North High, with Pat Garrity, Student Body President; Bob McIndoo, Vice-President, and Jimmy Stiles, Secretary-Treasurer, leading the way.

In the assembly held for the installation of new officers of the school, Pat, Bob, and Jimmy accepted not only their new school positions, but also their responsibility as supervisors of governmental problems, with the benefit of their fellow classmates in mind. They agreed, also, to see that the rulings and policies of the school were carried out.

These officers are the presiding members of the Executive Committee and the Student Council.

Pat Garrity, as Student Body President, acts as chairman of all assemblies as well as our representative and ambassador of good will to all high school conferences in the state. He attended the State Council Convention at Flagstaff this year as our delegate.

Chairman of the Council, the legislative department of North High, is Vice-President Bob McIndoo. Bob's job corresponds, in this capacity, to that of the Vice-President of the United States.

As Secretary-Treasurer, Jimmy Stiles fulfills his intricate job by keeping all records and business transactions of the Executive Committee and Student Council as well as maintaining a careful watch over all student funds.

We, The Students

Matters of vital importance to both the school and the students are brought before and voted upon by the Executive Committee, central student governing board.

Members of this group are all elected officers, and include the student body officers and a girl and boy representative from each class elected from and by the Student Council. Acting as advisory members to the body are presidents of the Girls' League, Boys' Alliance, and each of the four classes and the Chief Justice of the Honor Court.

Faculty advisers this year were Miss Ellen Nitzkowski and Mr. Lew K. Barney.

In order that all students might participate in school government and keep in direct touch with its policies, there exists the Student Council, or legislative branch, representing the entire school. Its membership includes the student body Vice-President, as chairman, and the Secretary-Treasurer of the student body, as secretary, together with elected representatives from each home room. This body legislates for the students of the school and all policies are brought before them.

They Mete Out Justice

Living up to the tradition of our reputation as "The Honor School of the West" and desirous of perfecting as nearly as possible a law-abiding, self-governing body, North Phoenix High recognizes the importance of the Honor Court.

This group enforces the student made regulations by acting as the jury and judge before which the erring student appears. These members then decide upon the seriousness of the infraction and the resultant justice to be dealt.

The six judges who were nominated by petition and elected at a general student election were Jack Vivian, Kenneth Voyles, and Joe Swift, seniors; Betty Alldredge and Phil Gates, juniors; and Barbara Creighton, sophomore.

Freshman home rooms elect a new judge every two weeks. He observes one week and acts as judge the next. This gives experience to a group of new students and helps to train them for future participation in student affairs.

The senior judges alternate as Chief Justice of the court, and as such automatically become a member of the Executive Committee of the student body.

The appointed members of the court are the secretary, Florence Punttenney, whose duty it is to send out call slips and keep records of all cases, and Tres Coerver, bailiff, who admits and dismisses offenders to the court.

Miss Ruth Adams is faculty adviser.

This judiciary system of North High has been most instrumental and successful in teaching students that very important fact that every broken law has a subsequent punishment.

Since one of the aims of education is to develop good citizenship, this early lesson in discipline is one of utmost importance.

FRIENDS AND LEADERS—
Betsy Smith, Girls' League
President, and Miss Jewell
Mitchell, Dean of Girls.

It Couldn't Be Any Better

Each girl of North High looks to the Girls' League as an ideal service, as well as social, organization.

The League gives an opportunity for girls to participate in school activities, which not only increases school spirit but provides an excellent means for the development of leadership and binding friendships.

The Girls' League, whose membership includes every girl in school, undertook a pretentious program this year.

Needy girls and families were provided clothing and food through projects in the girls' home rooms and funds raised by activities sponsored by the League.

Many a rollicking good time will be remembered by girls who attended the Co-ed Dance, when they asked their favorite girl date and trekked to the gym for a riotous evening of fun. Never to be forgotten was the scintillating evening at the Blue and Silver Ball with the one and only boy friend. Nor will the large Fashion Show Tea or the Every Girl's Dinner soon fade from their memories. The Big and Little Sister project to help incoming freshmen, the Freshman Mixer, the Rhythm Roundup, the first day courtesies to the teachers, and the numerous Girls' League assemblies were additional activities.

Miss Mitchell, as Dean of Girls, is faculty sponsor, with Miss Florine Kitts as assistant.

GIRLS' LEAGUE CABINET—Seated: Gloria Wasielewski, Margaret Hetherington, Betsy Smith, Mary Lee Atkerson, Pat Haire, Lolene Killpack, Miss Jewell Mitchell. Standing: Emily Schupp, Mary Ruth Wade, Jan Threlkeld, Georgia Annon, Lynette Campbell.

UNIFORM COMMITTEE—Seated: Miss Edna Ruth Contris, Frances Farrow, Gloria Wasielewski, Feyona Blaauw, Barbara Barrett. Standing: Phyllis Stapley, Ann Ammons, Marion Pool.

They Also Serve The League

The Council, representative body of the Girls' League, votes on all matters referred to it by the Cabinet. Its membership consists of home room chairmen or their representatives. Its personnel changes each semester through the election of new representatives.

Officers elected by the group who directed its work this year were Betty Alldredge, president; Rosemary Annon, vice-president; and Beth Jacobs, secretary-treasurer.

The regulation of wearing uniforms requires a Uniform Committee to judge whether a girl is out of uniform or not and additional regulations to be adopted. Each class is represented by two members, and Miss Edna Ruth Contris acts as adviser.

They Encourage Friendship, Too

The promotion of good fellowship and service for others are the important aims of the Boys' Alliance. This organization, which was started in the spring of 1940, has sponsored many worthwhile projects as well as the dinner held for all boys of North Phoenix.

A large and most successful campaign was waged by the Alliance this year for the cleaning up of the school grounds.

As co-sponsors with the Girls' League, the Boys' Alliance has worked on the Freshman Mixer, the Rhythm Roundup, the program for incoming freshmen, the courtesy to teachers the first day of school, and arrangements for the selection and selling of the school pin.

The Boys' Alliance Board, recently organized as the central executive group, is composed of the president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, service chairman, publicity chairman, and social chairman.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Arnold Wo, Secretary-Treasurer; Florence Puntenney, President; Eleanor Setter, Vice-President.

The Best of Friends Must Part

Seniors have been friends a long time. The Class of '42 leaves North Phoenix High at the end of its third year of existence, with many lasting friendships formed and hundreds of pleasant memories locked in every heart.

The year 1941-42 was filled with many activities and important events. The Hallowe'en Dance with its booths, prizes, and contests was enjoyed by all. The Senior Assembly depicted a pompous formal wedding given by the boys in Mr. Thomas L. Edens' home room. In collaboration with the Juniors, the Seniors staged the annual school play, "Ever Since Eve," which set a new high in comedy entertainment.

The Senior Comprehensive tests were held late in February. The aspect was dreadfully quiet and serious for a time, and a very noticeable relief was evident when they were over.

Chosen to lead the Seniors in their activities for the year was Florence Puntenney, as class president, after Bev Hart relinquished the office on moving to California. With the essential help of Eleanor Setter, vice-president, and Arnold Wo, secretary-treasurer, everything turned out beautifully.

The Junior-Senior Hop in April and the Junior-Senior Prom in May climaxed the year socially for the Class of '42. The farewell assembly not only brought back fond memories of the past three years and expressed regret at leaving our beloved North High, but it also held out high hopes for the future.

UPPER: Commencement, the goal of all seniors—and it takes four years of hard work! CENTER LEFT: Paul Jakobi and Melvin Olsen render a couple of arias in that uproarious senior assembly. CENTER RIGHT: Wedding bells for the happy groom, Bob Scott, and the blushing bride, Thurman Shipley. The affair was staged in the senior assembly by that notorious home room of Mr. Thomas Edens. LOWER LEFT: Dr. C. W. Taylor and Mr. C. A. Brown supervise struggling seniors in the throes of the senior comprehensive. LOWER RIGHT: Boots and his Rooty Toot Toots swing out hot at the senior assembly.

Next In Line

As the first class of Freshmen to enter North High, the present crop of Juniors has something no other class will ever have. That's why they will graduate as the first class to go four years to North Phoenix.

And perhaps that's why they are so friendly—for they are a friendly bunch, it will have to be admitted.

The Juniors felt rather superior and important at the beginning of the year, since they had become upperclassmen. However, their attitude changed somewhat, as the magnitude of the tasks before them became evident. They looked worried and worn during the week of the Junior Comprehensive tests. Soon after that, life looked brighter. They became interested and busy with plans for the Junior-Senior Hop and Junior-Senior Prom.

A patriotic play was written and directed by Lois Sanders for their class assembly. Practically all branches of military and non-military life were represented in this display of America's readiness.

A competent group of officers managed the affairs of the Juniors for the year. They were Jack Null, president; Paul Brown, vice-president; and Bob Stephens, secretary-treasurer.

Sophisticated Is The Word

What really grand Sophomores our last year's freshmen turned out to be! All year they have been trying to act sophisticated enough to make the Freshmen think that they are upperclassmen. In spite of that, though, they have shouldered their responsibilities and performed their duties to our school in a most creditable manner.

Although there weren't many late hours for them, there were several highlights during the year. The Freshman-Sophomore Hop was a great success, and their assembly about "Dangerous Dan McGrew" was something to be remembered.

The students who held positions as Sophomore class officers were Harold Witchey, president; Milton Smith, vice-president; and Shirley Richie, secretary-treasurer. Class advisers for the year were Mr. Arthur B. Clark and Mrs. Mary MacMorran.

The sophomores participated in numerous school activities. Bruce Smith and Harold Witchey represented North Phoenix High School on a city debating team at the coast last fall. Also, Anne Hare, another sophomore, placed second in the Rotary Public Discussion Contest this spring. There was a considerable sprinkling of sophomores on the athletic teams, and there were many to be found in all lines of endeavor.

Harold Witchey, President; Shirley
Richie, Secretary-Treasurer; Milton
Smith, Vice-President.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS—Melba Edgin, Secretary-Treasurer; Widtsoe Shumway, President; Bill Pilcher, Vice-President.

Freshmen Not Quite So Green

North High is proud of its freshmen for their enthusiastic cooperation in school activities. And not only that, the girls act older, their hair is not so straight, and their skirts are longer. The boys have grown taller and act more dignified. Both know the school rules, and they don't slide down the bannisters or race through the halls much any more.

They enjoyed a friendly get-together in the fall in the form of the Freshman Mixer, sponsored by the Girls' League and the Boys' Alliance.

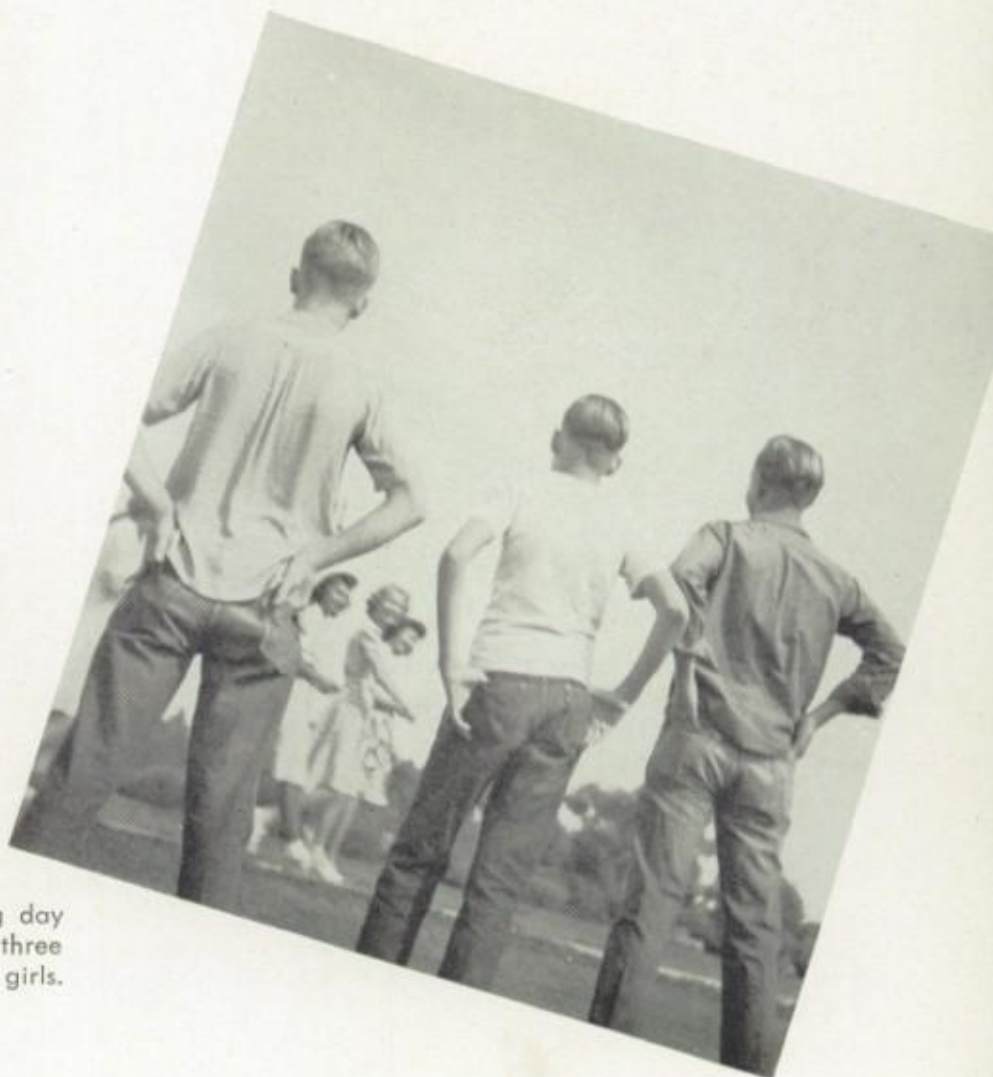

The Big and Little Sister program is annually sponsored by the Girls' League, and with the Boys' Alliance, the League planned several teas and social hours in the spring to enable the students to become acquainted with the graduates from the grade schools who will be entering North Phoenix High the following fall.

The youngest Mustangs helped the sophomores in staging the Freshman-Sophomore Hop, their big social event of the year.

In the election of class officers, Widtsoe Shumway received the presidency, Bill Pilcher was chosen vice-president, and Melba Edgin was elected secretary-treasurer.

Class advisers were Miss Ruth White and Mr. Robert Kaster.

THE BEGINNING OF FRIENDSHIP?—On opening day freshman boys had their eyes open. Here are three who seem interested in a trio of sophomore girls.

Dear Sammy
To think this is my last year with all you kids
makes me sad.
Because I wish it would forget all about me so be good - Sammy dear, and the best of luck always Love
Janie

Two Flags

Three years of rapid progress at North High were rewarded by the contribution of an American and a school flag to the Student Body by the Hazel Morton Post Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion and the school Parent-Teacher Association.

Students helped in the purchase of the school flag by participating in a drive for old newspapers and attending a movie sponsored by the P.-T.A. The design of this flag was chosen by the student body from a number submitted by school artists. In the panel above Pat Garrity, Student Body President, expresses his thanks on behalf of North High to Mrs. Lynwood I. Gifford of the Hazel Morton Post for the national flag. Lower left, Mrs. Gifford, Pat, and Mrs. J. M. Hutsell, president of the North High P.-T.A., bestow admiring glances on the new possessions. Lower right, Howard Warner, designer of the school flag, looks proudly upon his handiwork.

Patriotism Plus

With all America in a struggle for its very existence, today, more than ever, patriotism is being stressed. Every loyal American is doing his part to help America win by buying war stamps, saving tinfoil, newspapers, and scrap materials vital in the defense program.

To stimulate the sense of patriotism, which is so essential, the North High girls' and boys' ROTC Units have done their part by participating in the daily flag raising ceremony.

One of the school's big moments came when photographers from a Hollywood studio filmed this impressive ceremony. In the panel above, the military units stand at attention while the flag is raised to the stirring tune of "To The Colors." Lower left—Up it goes! Lt. John Vaughn and Tech. Sgt. Bob Grant send the flag to the top. Lower right—Curious bystanders watch cameramen film the ceremony.

Under The Yellow Moon

Annually eleven thousand spectators, including many visitors from out of the state, thrill to the presentation of the Masque of the Yellow Moon, a nationally famous pageant noted for its artistic coloring, original dances, and music. Directed by Mrs. Cordelia M. Perkins, it is believed to be the largest show of this type in the nation. Making up the cast are over 3,000 students from the two Phoenix High Schools and Junior College. Mr. Neil E. Cook, director of English at Junior College, wrote the story of the Masque. The theme of the pageant this year was "Reveille," written as a call to awaken industry, agriculture, and the Latin Americans, as well as soldiers and sailors, to give their all for the democratic way of life.

A main attraction of every pageant is the colorful parade of the king and princesses of the Masque. With her attendants, Princess Florence Puntteney, charming senior, headed the representatives from North High. Attendants from this school were Betsy Smith, from the senior class; Jan Threlkeld, junior class; Anne Hare, sophomore class; and Jeanne Wright, freshman class. Florence was very prominent on the campus this past year, holding the position of senior class president, secretary of the Honor Court, and also being a member of the Executive Committee and Inter-School Committee. She was junior attendant of the Masque last year.

Rodeo Time Again

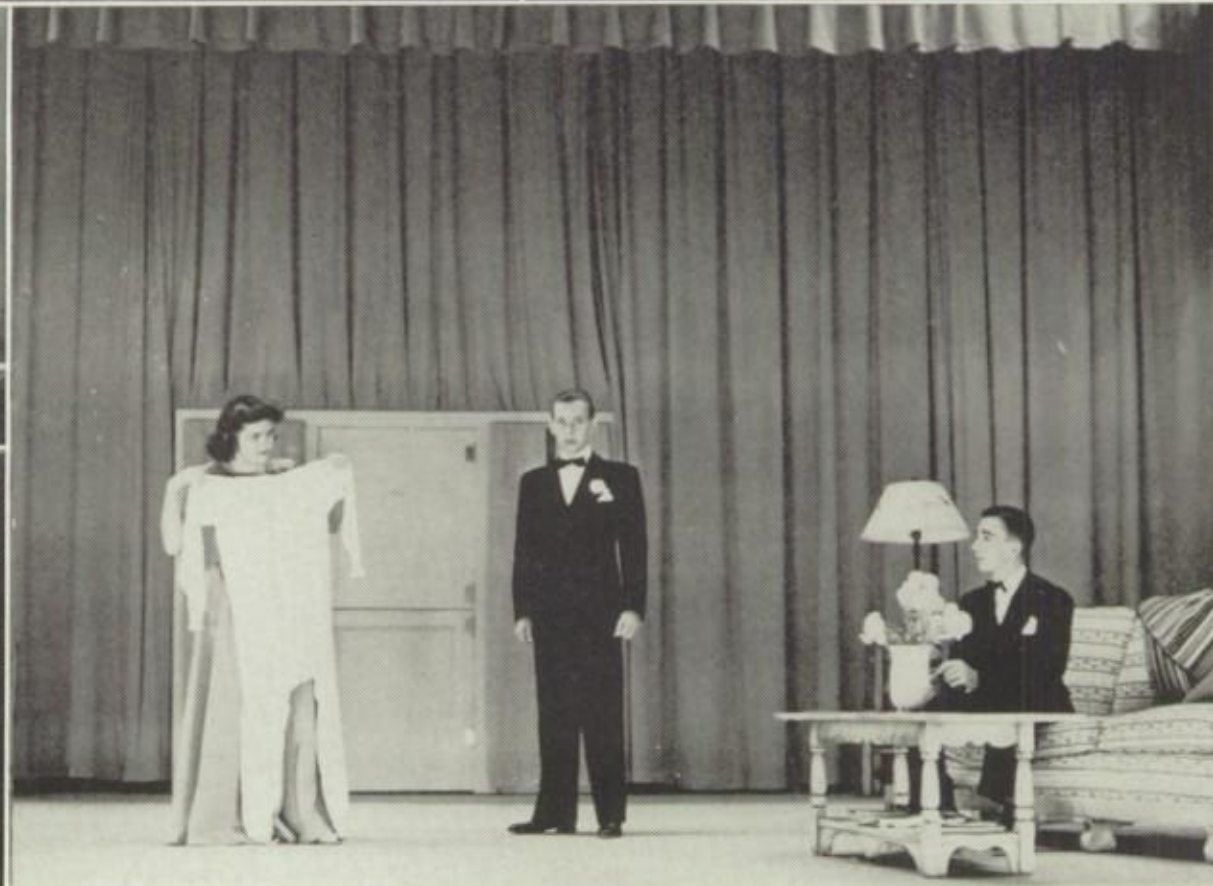

North High Mustangs pride themselves on their active support of Phoenix' annual rodeo. During Rodeo week students deck themselves out in colorful western attire. The climax comes when school is dismissed for the parade. Some join the crowd lining the streets to watch, but many others are active participants.

Even Eve Had Her Day

A very entertaining comedy was presented this year as the Junior-Senior play. "Ever Since Eve," the title, gives the clue to the fact that a number of women took part—Priscilla Peterson acting as Susan Blake and Mary Ellen Collins as Lucybelle Lee, in particular. The play was centered about the staff of a high school paper and their journalism teacher.

The high school romances got somewhat tangled but were unraveled in the surprising end. Tom Sawyer and Phil Gates played the leading male roles. Others playing leading roles were Georgia Annon, Leslie Hendryx, Helen Ann Wilcox, Jane Linde, Jim Elder, George Lilley, and Max Burns.

It was the second time the new play had ever been produced, but from the reaction of the audience one can expect it to be produced many times more.

That South American Way

"A South American Cruise" was this year's title of the Rhythm Roundup, annual musical comedy. A full two hours of laughter were enjoyed by students and guests of North High. The make-up of the actors was so excellent that some persons in the audience never did decipher just who was who.

The play was centered about the love affairs of Patty Sullivan as Brenda Rogers, Herbie Sledd as Dennis Oliver, and George Lilley, his rival, as Rudolph Romera. The South American atmosphere was very effective, and to hear Rudolph's accent anyone would have thought he really was a South American.

The last scene took place on the veranda of the Hotel Cabanca, featuring a patriotic waltz and finale. Also presented were several solos and a choral ensemble singing "Carmela."

Lois Sanders was the author of the production, with Priscilla Peterson helping Miss Ruth Mathis as student director.

Speaking of Speakers

"Mister chairman, ladies and gentlemen . . ." And the speech is on. And a lot of it goes on at North High.

Outstanding this year in the speech department were Bill Fickas and Gene Sage, who were entered in the District Constitution Oratorical Contest, where Bill placed first. He followed up this victory by winning second place in the state contest.

In the Rotary Public Discussion Contest, Anne Hare placed second and David Curland, third. Both were sophomores. Betsy Smith, senior, and Lois Sanders, junior, were the other North High finalists.

Another highlight of the year was the Valley Speech Festival. Georgia Annon and Wilma Thompson represented North Phoenix in the poetry division, and Priscilla Peterson in the dramatics division.

Miss Ruth Mathis is North High's speech and dramatics director.

Affirmative and Negative

If you happened to walk along the upper hall of the Science Building fourth period any day this year, chances are you heard much talk and argument seeping through the door of Mr. Walter Maxwell's room. It all came from the debate class, made up of approximately a dozen students interested in pro and con stuff.

The members of the class were especially interested in the debate with Union High. Along with the debate a new tradition was started. From now on the winner of the annual argument will be presented with a cider jug which they may keep until they lose some future contest.

This year the honor of going to California to debate a coast team was bestowed on Bruce Smith and Harold Witchey. Members of the debate class competed against teams from several other valley schools during the year.

ARGUERS ALL—Top left: Bruce Smith shows Mary Virginia Grigsby the jug which North High and Union High debaters will argue over annually. Top right: Something new in debate teams—five on a side! March Of Time

Between the new covers of Hoofbeats lie the glistening pages of our 1942 annual. This year not only the cover is new but the make-up of the pages is new—a different type of printing and engraving of pictures has been used and also more expensive paper. It has been a big step forward. And to meet the increased costs, Business Manager Myrtle Christenson and her assistants struggled hard with finances.

Don't think it has been all play and no work putting this annual together. Taking pictures, for instance, is great sport, but getting the crowds together definitely is not. Just ask Photographer Harrison Duff what he had to go through every time he took a picture.

BIG BOSSES—The Editor and Business Manager of Hoofbeats: Gloria Wasielewski and Myrtle Christenson.

The members of the staff started planning for this volume the first week of school and continued till the deadline in April. And right here the whole staff takes this opportunity to pay tribute to Editor Gloria Wasielewski and all the work she did. Under her management the co-workers have produced this friendship volume that you now see before you. It is yours now, North High. We hope you like it.

Quill And Scroll—The Goal

The North Phoenix High Chapter of Quill and Scroll has been in existence for two years now. Quill and Scroll is an international honorary journalistic society composed of selected juniors and seniors. It is a great honor to be a member, and all publications students strive to belong.

Eleven members were inducted into the chapter this year. These initiates and the other members helped in the national defense program by sponsoring a newspaper collection drive.

Officers of the chapter were Suzanne Davies, president; Betsy Smith, vice-president; Phil Gregory, secretary-treasurer; and Rosemary Annon, activity chairman.

PAPERS FOR DEFENSE—Quill and Scroll sponsored a paper salvage drive for defense. Members collected the papers first period on Wednesdays and bundled them up for local defense authorities. Tied up in their work at right are Evelyn Feighner, Rosemary Annon, Pat Haire, Phil Gregory, Jack Leibsohn, Joan Aker, Herman Lipow.

News And Views

Published semi-monthly was the school newspaper, the Mustang Roundup, carrying school news and many regular features. On the Fridays that the paper appeared those students who had no subscriptions rushed to the table where single copies were sold so as they could join the rest of the crowd in their chuckles and chatter over the latest gossip.

SUZANNE DAVIES, Editor-in-Chief of the Mustang Roundup.

Suzanne Davies deserves several pats on the back for doing such a fine job of editing the Mustang Roundup this year—also her chief assistant editors, Pat Sissons, Elizabeth Ely, Pat Haire, Phil Gregory, Pat Pollack, and Floyd Longwell.

The Roundup this year regularly appeared with six pages, and occasionally with eight. This increase in size over last year's four page issues was made possible primarily by the increase in advertising revenue, for which much credit must go to the advertising salesmen who worked under the direction of David Zeitlin.

Among the regular columns in the Roundup, "Makes Ya Think" by Editor Suzanne was outstanding and received much student comment. The entertaining feature page with its latest juicy morsels was also very popular. An added attraction was the monthly issue of Scholastic Roto, a pictorial supplement depicting school life over the nation.

Snoopers And Go-Getters

What would the Mustang Roundup have been like without "Round the Range"? Yes, those snooping reporters really got some super scoops for that column to which everyone turned first upon receiving his paper.

Together with subscription sales, advertising revenue makes possible the publication of the paper and annual. The ad solicitors who go from one firm to another in search of advertisements walk many a weary mile, but they play a big part in the publishing of the paper and annual. David Zeitlin as advertising manager of the Roundup and Myrtle Christenson as business manager of Hoofbeats directed the activities of these energetic salesmen.

The people who went out and dug up all the news and gossip and wrote the stories had a lot of fun, and hard work too—as members of the Journalism class. Not only did its members become reporters eventually but every other Friday each member would deliver papers to home rooms, under the supervision of circulation manager, Philip Hart.

The activities of the Publications department were under the direction of Mr. John C. Raymond.

Here Comes The Band

Did you notice how much snappier the band was this year? We can really hand it to Mr. Lynn Fitzgerald and all the members of the band for the splendid improvement they have made. And the costumes certainly did add to it, making it more colorful and even more patriotic, too, with the blue and white suits and red trimmings.

Perhaps the band is best known for its lively playing at the football games. And this year their two specialties were the salute to the United States Treasury Department with their arrangement of "U. S. A., Buy Bonds" and the arrangement of "The Bells of St. Mary's" while the two human bells rang out a salute to the St. Mary's Knights.

But aside from the football games, the band has taken part in school assemblies and programs, the Teachers' Convention, the musical pageant at Phoenix Union, the Midwinter Concert at North High, and others. They have also played in the parades, broadcast over the radio, and they have upheld North High by entertaining the cadets at the various flying fields around Phoenix.

This year the band was made up of eighty-five students, with Bill Cox as their manager and Bill Owens assisting Mr. Fitzgerald as student director.

NORTH HIGH BAND—Membership of the 1941-42 Band included George Anderson, Bob Allison, Jean Ascher, Bob Bennett, Robert Blackwell, Dick Bledsoe, Lyda Branham, Mary Lou Brice, Billy Bridgewater, Lewis Bruce, Byron Burgess, Lynette Campbell, Lawrence Cashen, Rebecca Clardy, Marjorie Ray Clark, Donald Cogdill, Walter Collins, Fred Copeland, Bill Cox, Ralph Davenport, Perry Doyle, Boots Glotfelter, Bill Elerick, Ben Elliott, Mack Foley, Clair Folk, Mary Sue Forester, Quin Gustason, John Hansford, Jerry Harris, Thomas Hesketh, Milford Hinson, Jean Clair Hutsell, Beth Jacobs, Mark Kellogg, Marylyn Kellogg, Danny Keltner, Joy Kleck, Barbara La Rue, Charles Lawwill, Ella May Lindsay, Rachel Ann Lloyd, Robert McCray, Douglass McMann, Vance McPherson, Carl Merrill, Myrtle Miles, Roy Mock, Ben Mosher, Morris Mudge, George Mueller, Blaine Mullins, Charles Oatman, Bill Owens, Katherine Pace, Jimmy Pennington, Mayme Phillips, R. Say It With Music

The North High String choir was very outstanding this year, playing some of the finest and loveliest pieces of music. Among the school functions at which they played were the P.-T.A. programs, the Girls' League Fashion Show, and the Junior-Senior play. Also various ensemble groups played on outside programs.

The orchestra, which met second period, consisted of twenty-seven pieces. Two of its members had the honor of being in the Phoenix symphony orchestra. They were Jean McDonald, cellist, and Edwin Allsman, violinist.

Their most important activity this year was the Mid-winter Concert. Participants in this affair were the orchestra, the band, the Boys' Glee Club, and the Girls' Glee Club. Several soloists also performed. The purpose of the Festival aside from providing pleasure was to raise money to equip the music department with various essentials. A Spring Concert was also presented. Both were directed by Mr. Lynn Fitzgerald.

The music department has developed considerably since the first year, and now it is one of the most called-upon departments of the school. All divisions of the music department are asked to entertain at the programs of various community organizations, and they are always ready, willing, and able to serve.

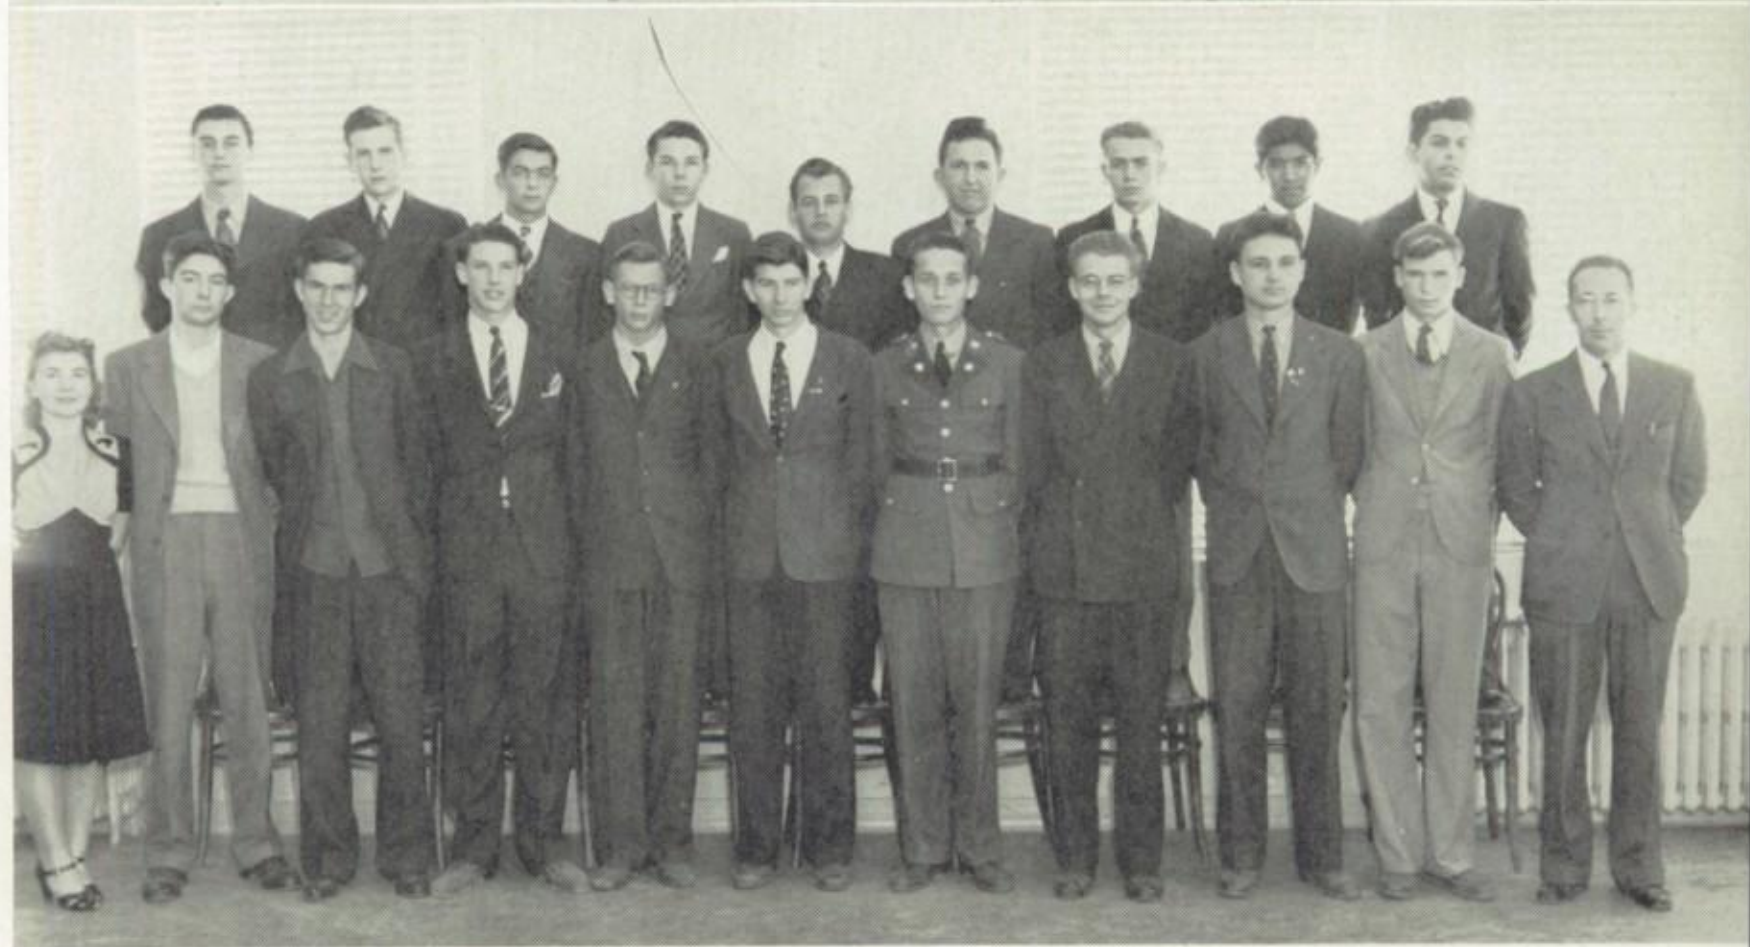

Music Department Off The Record

The main duty of the Music Committee is to decide the policy of the music department when some important matter comes up. Members of the Music Committee appear in the lower picture. Seated: Lois Hood, Ruth Pitrat, Betty Robbins. Second row: Rosemary Mock, Frances Sharp, Katherine Pace, Rebecca Clardy, Lou Lester, Eleanor Setter, Corinne Chesnutt. Third row: Vance McPherson, Bill Elerick, Bill Owens, Bill Cox, Hal Glotfelter, Bob Minser, and Thomas Hesketh.

The triolettes, North High's first trio, performed at several city programs and were well known about North High for their various presentations. In the upper right picture are the triolettes, Betty Robbins, Ruth Pitrat, and Lois Hood.

In the upper left picture Mr. Fitzgerald brings that sweet music out of the band as it plays at a North High musical assembly.

Cadets On Parade

With four companies this year, G, H, I, K, North High's Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit stepped out onto the drill field under the command of Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel Alf Williamson.

The unit is the third battalion of the regiment composed of cadets of Phoenix Union High School, Phoenix Junior College, Arizona Vocational School, and Phoenix Union Colored High School.

Under the leadership of Colonel Williamson and the instruction of Captain Richard H. Bridgman, Professor of Military Science and Tactics, and his assistant, Technical Sergeant Hugh C. Reddic, the Mustang battalion, marching with the regiment, presented spectacular displays in several parades, including the Armistice Day parade, the parade at the half of the Phoenix Union-North Phoenix football game, and the Army Day parade, and they really put on smooth performances at the annual Federal Inspection, at which they were awarded a superior honor rating, the Masque of the Yellow Moon, and Military Night, their three big annual events.

For the first year since the birth of North Phoenix High School, Mustang cadets' khaki garb bore battalion insignia. Shoulder patches and lapel and hat crests, a white horse on a red field in a blue border, trimmed in gold, gave the boys a mark of distinction to be proud of.

For the smooth functioning of a well-drilled battalion excellently trained officers are essential and North High's ROTC can certainly boast of having some of the very finest. On the next page they stand smartly at attention as they line up to show how young America looks in military uniform.

Something Extra

Sponsored by Captain Bridgman and Sergeant Reddic, and with Captain Bob Molumby as its president, the ROTC club held the Fall Military Ball, which was a great success. The Phoenix Union High School ROTC Club held the Spring dance.

Sgt. Hugh C. Reddic, sponsor and instructor of the Rifle Club, and Cadet Captain Edgar Rows-thorne, led the team through the year with flying colors.

The Mustang riflers made a good showing in national and regional matches as well as in local matches with Phoenix Union High School, two with the Southern Arizona School for Boys in Tucson, Prescott High School, and the Phoenix Rifle Club, an adult organization.

Several of the North High team members also entered individual matches.

In Uniforms Of Blue

Uniforms to the right of us—uniforms to the left. In these days not only boys, but girls also are in uniform, receiving fundamentals of training which may prove invaluable in the future. The North High Girls' ROTC has been very active this year under the supervision of the faculty sponsor, Miss Catherine Wilkinson, in learning military drill and tactics.

In their brilliant blue uniforms, the girls have added a touch of color to a number of parades and military exhibitions during the year. The precision and smartness of their drill has received much favorable comment.

Commanding North High's Company M is Hazel Brewer, captain. Other officers are Harriett Bennett, first lieutenant; Merriam Merrill, second lieutenant; Geraldine Conley, first sergeant; Mildred Page, platoon sergeant; Dorothy Hamilton, guide sergeant; Dorothy Duncan, guidon. Corporal of the first squad is Rita Hubbard; Margaret Berry, corporal second squad; Colleen Berry, third squad; and Dorothy Walker, corporal of the fourth squad.

They Also Work Sometimes!

Although most Mustangs have had a jolly old time with their friends and cronies this past year at North High, some of the time has been spent in diligent (?) study. For proof, look at the pictures on this and the following pages. They depict students in their various classes earnestly taking up the problems of the day.

Variety Keeps Things Buzzing!

Around North High there are all kinds of things going on. Not only do students get training in the classics here but also are trained in practical courses, such as foods, clothing, child guidance, and first aid that may be used after school years are over.

Upper left: The Homemaking class learn the truth of the old adage, "A stitch in time . . ." Upper right: Observers smile benevolently at their playschool charges gaping at the "birdie". Center left: Mr. James Carter supervises prospective stenographers in his office training class. Center right: Classes "grudgingly" take time out for an air raid drill. Lower left: In First Aid Training, the earnest participants practice on fellow members. Lower right: Mr. Dewey Marker shows up Old Mother Nature by making his own electricity.

Cabbages And Kings

A variety of subjects is taught at North High, for everything from the mysteries of all the sciences to the values of Inter-American cooperation are explained here. Upper left: Assembling model planes proves interesting. Upper right: Pan-American cooperation is one of the most important things in the world today, and the Pan-American exhibit in the Library drew much interest. Center left: Training in mechanical drawing is important in the present crisis. Center: Results of experiments in chemistry are often amusing as well as instructional. Center right: Bill Hobson bestows a rather doubtful look on his concoction simmering over the blaze. Lower left: Physiography students know why the world goes around. Lower right: Photosynthesis, osmosis, peptones, and parotid are just everyday words to Mr. A. B. Clark's biology class.

Jops In The Field

The Lettermen's Club is limited to boys who have earned a school letter in one or more sports. The club sponsors an annual school dance, which is preceded by a spring football game between the senior and junior classes. Most of the players are club members. The group also has several parties. Coaches "Rolly" Caldwell and Clare Van Hoorebeke are the club sponsors.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization composed of agricultural students. The group makes numerous field trips.

North High club members have been very outstanding both in oratory and beef judging. For two successive years the club has won the state championship in high school beef judging. The winners this year were Lee Dyer and Bob Cooper. For this they received $200 with which they were sent to Fort Worth, Texas, where they attended the Fort Worth Stock Show.

The sponsor, Mr. Tom Watson, accompanied the boys.

Fourth row: Carlton Gifford, Blair Grant, Evan Peterson, Edgar Korricks, Marshall McMillan, Hi Miller, Roswell Jones, Lloyd Dobson, Mr. C. A. Brown, John McCaleb, Douglas Sewell.

They Strive To Serve

Service to the school and to the community is the keynote of the activities of these organizations.

The Auditorium Club furnishes ushers for the various extra curricular functions in the school auditorium. The members obtain free entrance to all the activities at which they serve. Only sophomores, juniors, and seniors with better than average grades are eligible for membership.

The sponsor is Mrs. Lu Hess Rhodes.

The Stadium Club members' duties are to usher at football and basketball games and help keep score. They also clean up bits of broken bottles and glass and keep the foul lines clear at the baseball games. Mr. C. A. Brown is the sponsor.

The Hi-Y is an organization of Y.M.C.A. boys whose purpose is to promote Christian ideals in the school and the community. The club is divided into two sections, junior and senior. Each year on good government day the senior division sponsors a student direction of the city government to help prepare the students for their future responsibilities as citizens. The faculty advisers are Mr. Robert H. Carson and Mr. Frank H. Anderson.

It Takes Skill

The Chess Club is composed of a group of boys who are interested in the intricacies of chess playing. The members meet twice a month to study the principles and proper technique of the game. The sponsor is Mr. N. Dewey Marker.

The Amateur Magicians are an organization of students who are what the name implies. The purpose of the club is to promote an interest in magic among boys and girls. It also makes available for home rooms, clubs, and other school groups, a supply of trained performers. The club has been very active in programs around school and also in those of various private organizations. The members presented an assembly in February and have appeared in several others. The club sponsored the performance of Leon the Magician. The faculty adviser is Mr. F. V. Brown.

With A Cultural Turn

The Choral Reading Club is a group of students who act as a speaking choir and present various programs of prose and poetry. The sponsor is Miss Zula Stevens.

The Crazy Quills are a group of boys and girls interested in creative writing. As a project for the year, under the direction of Miss Helen Morgan, they issue a booklet containing the work of the various members, called Tumbleweeds. This year the club put out two such booklets.

The Library Club consists of both boys and girls and is social as well as informative. The members work in the Library. Each year they sponsor a Christmas sale of poinsettias for the purpose of purchasing books and magazines for the library. Miss Genevieve Carlton and Mrs. Hugh C. Reddic are the club sponsors.

Language As Background

Legio Honoris (meaning Legion of Honor) is composed of second year Latin students with a grade average of three or better. The club meets once each month under the direction of the faculty adviser, Miss Anna Schlichter.

The students present programs, reports, skits, and drama pertaining to Roman life at the meetings. They also learn Latin songs.

The sixty North High members assembled with the Phoenix Union Latin Club students at the main event of the year, the Roman Banquet in the spring.

Legio Honoris is a chapter of the Junior Classical League.

The Espanlata Club is a combination of first year Latin and Spanish students who meet every other Wednesday in the room of the faculty sponsor, Miss Eva S. Edwards. They present skits and songs in Latin and Spanish and also give reports on the customs and life of Spain and ancient Rome. The Latin members who have the highest marks are eligible to serve as slaves at the annual Roman Banquet.

There's Also Time For Play

The French Club, officially "Un Bout de France" (a little bit of France), is composed of second year French students. The club presented an assembly this year. The skit was a satire on the story of Cinderella, with Sylvia Smith in the leading role.

Meetings are held in homes of the club members twice monthly. The group listens to informative speeches on present day conditions in France and enjoys various French games. Faculty members who are interested in French are frequent guests.

The club sponsor is Mrs. Lu Rhodes.

The Spanish Club is a charter division of an international organization, the Student Pan-American League. Membership is restricted to second and third year Spanish students.

The main event of the year is the Spanish Banquet. Each Spanish class appointed officers to give talks at the banquet. Other forms of entertainment were also enjoyed. The Master of Ceremonies was David Curland. The club presented an assembly in April.

The faculty adviser is Miss Mildred Wiley.

For Girls Only

Girl Reserves is a national club sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. for girls. Activities of the group include picnics, parties, several dances, an overnight outing to Rosemary Lodge, and a tea which is held for all the Girl Reserve members in Phoenix high schools.

A conference is held annually in which members all over the valley meet, have lectures and group discussions, and have parties.

Sponsors are Mrs. Elsie Chason and Miss Elsie Deaver.

The Horizon Club is a chapter of the National Camp Fire Girls. As a project, the club sent scrap-books, cookies, and candy to the soldiers recreational center. A mother-daughter banquet was held May 10. All the members have taken the Red Cross first aid course. Their meetings are social and they have picnics, hikes, and parties. The sponsor is Miss Miriam Gathings.

Howdy Pardners, sponsored by Miss Alma Beye, is organized for service and goodfellowship and is open to newcomers to the school.

Fun And Learning Combine Here

The Fidelis Club is an organization of girls who take home economics. Besides learning the quickest way to a man's heart, the club makes various field trips to places of interest to the students. They also complete a service project and have several parties a year. Miss Norma Sayre is the sponsor.

The Science Club is a group of boys and girls who organized to further their own interest in the field of science. The members carry on various scientific experiments and tests and complete extra-credit projects for that subject. Only science students are eligible for membership. Although the club has not yet produced any startling revelations for the scientific world, Mr. C. A. Brown, sponsor, is confident of the members' ability as potential scientists.

The "R" (for 'rithmetic and research) Club is composed of boys and girls who have had a minimum of one and one-half years of mathematics. The purpose of the club is to promote the study of math in its relation to other subjects. The club gives one or two parties a year. Mr. Harold R. Williams is the faculty adviser.

GLIDER CLUB—First row: Ben Young, Jimmie Rustrin, Leroy Lee, Russell Webb, Arthur Bowen, Mr. H. H. Hoff, Mr. H. H. Dickey.

Sparks And Wings

Aviation and radio hold prominent places in the field of current events. These subjects are vitally important to the every day living and progress of America and this importance cannot be over-emphasized.

The Gliding and Soaring Club is composed of students who are interested in aeronautics and willing to help contribute their time, efforts, and financial support to the construction of a two-seater glider to be used for research, pleasure, and study by the students. The North High sponsor was Mr. W. W. Mitchell.

Wings of North Phoenix, the aviation club, is a group of boys and girls interested in aviation and model aircraft. An interesting project of the organization is the building of model Axis and Allied planes to be used for illustrating lectures on modern warfare. Mr. N. Dewey Marker is the faculty adviser.

The Radio Club is an organization of radio and shop students who meet to gain further experimental and practical practice in radio research. The club sponsor is Mr. Robert H. Carson.

Pursuit Of Knowledge

Parnassus is an honor club for students having made fourteen or more grade points the preceding semester. Its purpose is to encourage better scholarship.

Each year senior members of Parnassus are invited to a banquet given by the Hiram Club. Also at commencement exercises seniors who have been members six out of eight semesters are given particular recognition: a special place in line, their names are starred on the programs, and a special seal is put on their diplomas. Often they are salutatorians or valedictorians. About half the Parnassus group become National Honor Society members.

Sophomores having belonged to the club for three out of four semesters are given a small felt letter; and seniors belonging all four years are awarded Parnassus Club pins.

This year the club was composed of eighteen freshmen, twenty sophomores, nineteen juniors, and twenty seniors,—a total of seventy-seven members.

The sponsor is Miss Ruth Adams.

Here's Where The Pep Begins

Enthusiasm on the part of the student body puts fighting spirit into teams. That North High teams were highly successful this year may partially be attributed to the lively support of all Mustangs. One group in particular gets plenty of credit for stimulating school spirit—Spark Plugs. Above you see them swarming over the score board.

Football Fever

North Phoenix High's 1941 year at football was marked by an unsteady start that was soon replaced by a steady succession of victories once the Mustangs began to hit their pace. After dropping two of their three opening games, the North High gridgers won seven straight games to gain a first place tie for the championship of the newly-functioning Class A football league, as well as to bring recognition as one of the state's strongest grid threats for the second successive year.

Coach Rollie Caldwell's defending champions had three worthy opponents to face for the first time, pitting the Mustangs against the state's finest teams as well as continuing inter-state competition. The strong additions to the schedule were St. Mary's, Tucson, and Phoenix Union High Schools.

The same heavy ground attack that shot North Phoenix to football supremacy the preceding season was featured by the Mustangs again, but this year the tricky T formations and increased emphasis on passing added spice to it. Though handicapped at times by injuries, North Phoenix fielded a tough and aggressive line behind which was a versatile collection of Mustang backs.

Off To A Shaky Start

North Phoenix opened its football season in shaky style by losing to St. Mary's Knights, 6-0, largely because of gallant defensive stands by the doughty band of Knights that staved off repeated Mustang scoring thrusts all through the evening. On one occasion the Mustangs had four downs to make as many yards for a much-needed touchdown, but the Lancer line proved impenetrable.

Following the City League loss, North Phoenix traveled to Yuma for its first Class A contest and initial win. The Wild Horses ran unchecked over the Criminals to gain a 20-0 victory.

Phoenix Union's Stadium seemed to hold a jinx for the Mustangs, as they returned to it for their second defeat of the season. Though substantially out-gaining the Mesa's Jackrabbits, the Wild Horses failed to click consistently that night, and the result was a 12-0 loss. It was the only Class A defeat of the season for North Phoenix. The Mustangs' hitherto feared line was out-played most of the game. Twice it allowed Mesa to filter through to block punts and set up the only touchdowns.

BACKFIELD SPEED AND POWER—Howard Moore, senior, All-State fullback and ace punter; Co-captains Dick Threlkeld, senior, halfback, and Bee Caldwell, junior, quarterback, pull a tricky reverse; Pony-back Frank Miller, junior, halfback, owns a priceless pair of legs that carry him on those sparkling runs.

Seven Straight

Two defeats in three games—one each in crucial City and Class A League competition—clouded the Mustang grid outlook. Only a share in the two conference titles was open now, and to earn even this the North High gridders had to sweep through the remainder of a tough schedule undefeated, and with most of the strongest games yet to be played! Clearly the Mustangs had come to a critical point in their pigskin parade. The next few games counted heavily, for their outcome decided whether the victory-hungry Mustangs could still salvage a successful season record.

North Phoenix looked more like the state championship team of the previous season in the next game as it powered to an 18-0 victory over an unusually strong Glendale Cardinal club on the loser's field. Intensive practice sessions had netted results for the Mustangs, and at last they began to show some of the coordination previously lacking.

The next week-end the now-polished Mustang grid machine rolled out to defend the home turf from an invasion by Tucson's tough Badgers. The hard-fought and evenly-matched contest was a deadlock most of the way, and neither team seemed fated to win. But as the dying minutes ran out, the Mustangs with startling suddenness coupled a pass interception with a thrilling last-second run and lateral to set the score at North Phoenix 14, Tucson 7.

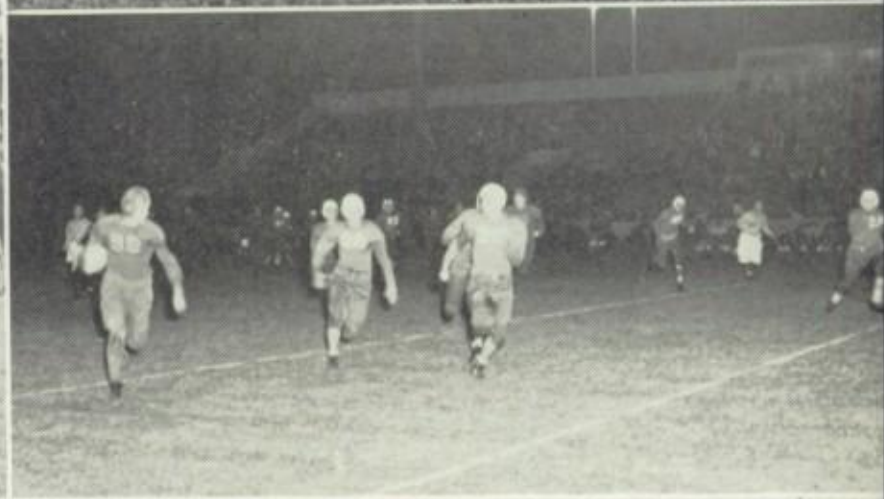

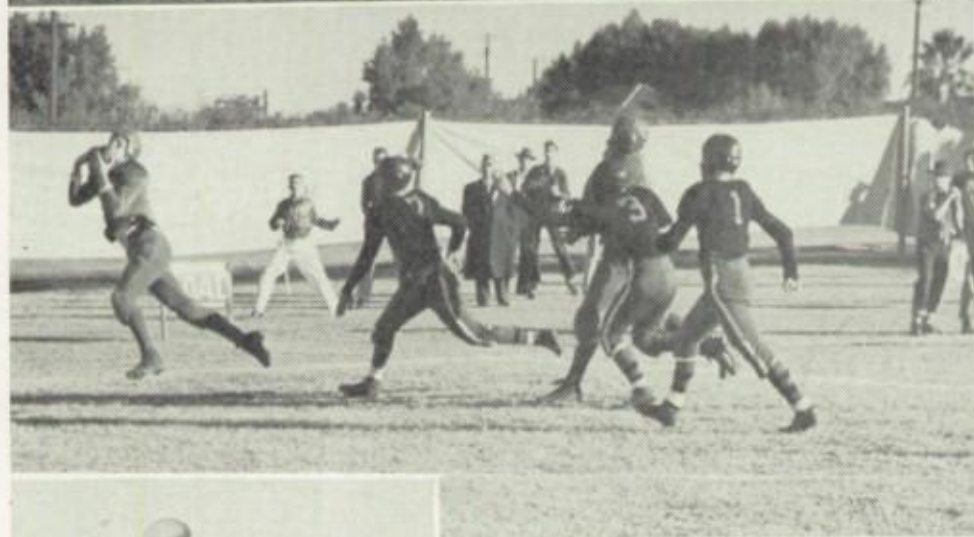

Pointing Ahead

Next on the list for the locals were the El Paso Tigers. Gunning to avenge their sole defeat of last year, the Mustangs blanketed the colorful Texans' famed aerial circus while running up a 19-0 count. Nogales' game little bunch of Apaches played well out of their class the next Friday, suffering a 45-0 crushing by the Wild Horses.

The Mustangs were either apathetic or pre-occupied with the impending Coyote game the night they met Tempe's Buffaloes. Playing on a sodden Goodwin Stadium field, the North High eleven trailed 7-6 at half-time but snapped back into action to take a comfortable 32-7 victory.

Coyote Climax

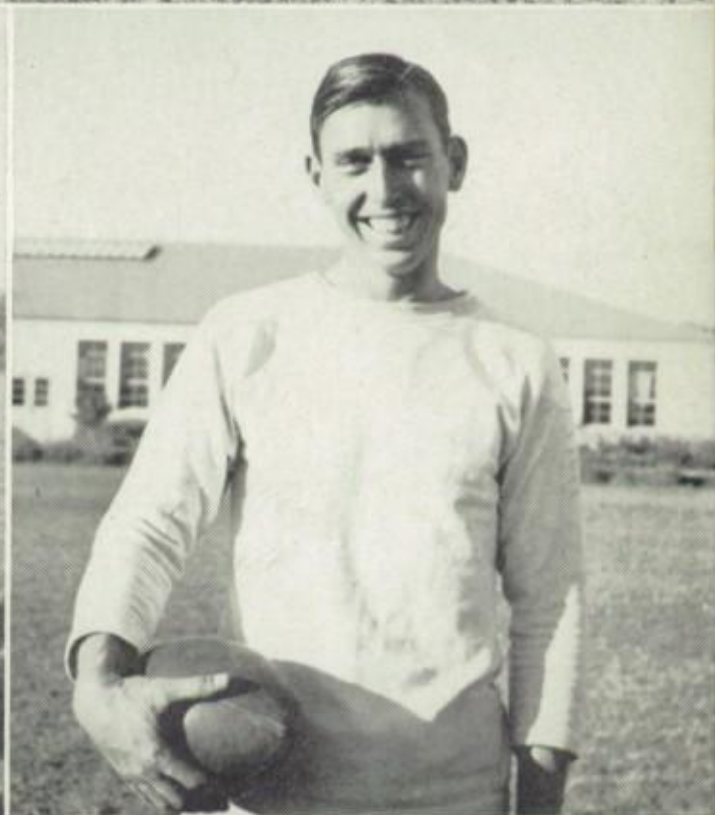

With five straight victories behind them, North Phoenix High's Mustangs were now ready to face the Phoenix Union Coyotes in the Big Game of the year. A Thanksgiving Day crowd of approximately 11,000 filled the large Union High Stadium and bleachers to attend the first gridiron meeting of the two schools.

The Mustangs and Coyotes battled on fairly even terms through all but the final minutes of the first half when the Scarlet and Blue standards bearers passed over a touchdown and converted to gain an initial advantage. The determined Mustangs soon saw their half-time lead tied and then topped by a fighting Coyote pack, but they came back with unbridled fury to score with a 75-yard punt return and on a dramatic pass interception as the shadows lengthened across the field. The final score—North Phoenix 20, Phoenix Union 13.

In an anti-climactic meeting of two crippled clubs, North Phoenix rang down the curtain on its 1941 football season with a 14-0 win over the Miami Vandals at the Mustang stadium.

They'll Grow Up

Winning one, tying two, and losing five may not sound like a brilliant season, but on the contrary, the Colts this year showed plenty of fight and spunk that will make them invaluable to the varsity next year.

The Colts opened their season with a spectacular defeat at the hands of the Buckeye varsity eleven, 2-7. Bounding back, intent on victory, they battled the Phoenix Union Pups to a 7-7 dead heat. The next defeat was suffered at the hands of the Mesa Bunnies, 13-0. Once again the Colts rebounded, but lacked the necessary punch to break the draw with St. Mary's. The duel ended at 6-6. The next game with Glendale proved to be another strong tussle, with Glendale emerging victorious, 6-0. Journeying to Casa Grande the Colts sprang a surprise attack on the varsity, winning a 6-0 victory. The season was brought to a close with two more defeats, both return engagements—Phoenix Union topping them with a 19-7 score, and Mesa edging out the Colts by 7-6.

Basketball Boom

Basketball at North Phoenix High for 1941-42 was high-lighted by a late-season improvement—following an only mediocre year's record—that enabled the Mustang hoopsters to make a strong showing at the important district and state tournaments. The belated boost stamped the Scarlet and Blue as one of the state's stronger cage clubs as well as largely atoning for earlier winning lapses.

The Mustang casabasketeurs were given only an outside chance of winning over the state's strongest competition at the Tucson tourney, but the North Phoenix five quickly established a reputation for a fine combination of high-scoring offense and stout defensive play. In the opening round of play, Miami's defending state champs had a scare thrown into them by a battling Mustang team that came back with a rush after being badly out-scored the first half. The rally just fell short, however, and the Wild Horses lost to the Vandals by a 38-33 count.

The wily Wolverines of Tolleson very nearly blasted North Phoenix hopes for consolation honors the following encounter, but the Mustangs managed to out-steady Tolleson and to go on to a hotly-contested 37-35 win.

Little Duncan proved only a warm-up for the evening's finale, as they fell before a withering barrage of baskets in a 66-26 rout. The score was the greatest of the tournament and a three-year high for the Mustangs.

For the fourth time in the year, Phoenix teams met on the hardwood in a continuation of a great rivalry, and this time the Mustangs were not to be denied. Though dropping off somewhat from their torrid tournament scoring pace, North Phoenix' offensive proved adequate to defeat Phoenix Union High School, 31-26, and win the consolation championship.

Wins And Losses

North Phoenix opened its 1941-42 basketball campaign with a 40-34 overtime loss at Tolleson, but bounced back with a 32-25 victory over the Tempe Buffaloes the next evening. Mustang Class-A aspirations were all but snuffed out the following week-end as the locals took double defeats from the strong Phoenix Union and Tucson teams. The Wild Horses invaded the massive Coyote casabatorium for a 29-20 defeat, and then suffered a 50-32 shellacking by the all-conquering Badgers in the season's first home gym invasion. North Phoenix next defeated Glendale's game club, 28-21, and the Yuma Criminals, 27-19.

The Temperature Rises

A mid-season slump began at Mesa when the Jackrabbits took a heart-breaking 31-25 win from North Phoenix. Following that, Wickenburg's Wranglers roped the Mustangs, 41-32; Peoria edged past North Phoenix, 30-24, in a thrilling over-time tilt; and Tucson again triumphed over the local quint, 44-27. North Phoenix then took a twin win in Class-A competition—placing it third behind the dead-locked Phoenix Union and Tucson teams—by defeating Mesa, 27-22, and Yuma, 38-24. Union High's towering team topped the Mustangs the next week-end, 30-19. North Phoenix rang down the curtain on its regular season with a resounding 40-20 victory over Ajo.

Turning their backs on a sad season record of six wins against eight defeats and a deflated 28 point scoring average, two below the opposition's, the determined Mustangs entered the West Central District Tournament at Phoenix. The rejuvenated Wild Horses completely crushed Peoria's strong titlists in a first round major upset. The score was 49-30.

North Phoenix next turned the power on Ajo, 39-20, and out-raced Parker's Broncs, 36-27. In the championship game, the cross-town Coyotes copped a 36-24 decision from the Mustangs.

TENNIS TEAM—First row: Milton Smith, Bill Bridgewater, Dudley Miller. Second row: Coach Douglas V. Cary, Dave Widger, Mark Mathews, Tres Coerver, Jerry Foster, Scott Barrett, Bill Ridgeway.

Net Results

The racket-wielding men in the white from North High established an enviable record this year in the brief history of tennis at the school.

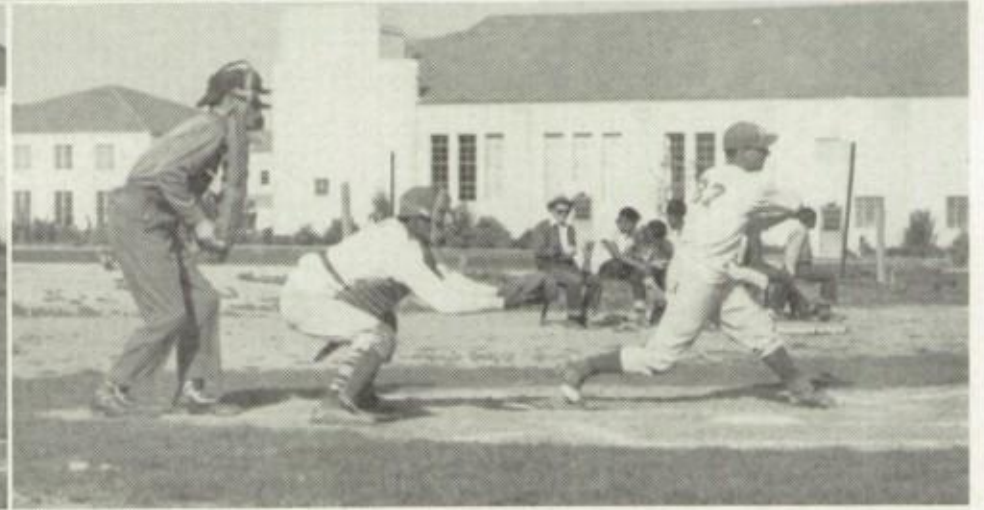

Opening the season against a formidable Mesa team, they won top honors handily, 8 to 5. Once under the sizzling serves of a Yuma team, however, they dropped 6 out of 7, Mark Mathews being the sole victor from North High.

Heartbreak of the season was the hard fought battle with Tucson. The Tucsonian netters had a precarious 3-2 lead when the rains came, canceling the remaining matches and the Mustangs' hope of victory.

After taking a clean sweep of all seven events in the Miami match, their prestige was hard hit by another loss to Yuma. Coming back with a rush they took 6 out of 7 in a return engagement with Mesa, and undertook a general cleanup at Prescott by winning all 10 of the scheduled contests.

Other wins were registered over Judson School and Junior College.

Mark Mathews, ace Mustang raquetteer, won the Arizona boys' title, while Jerry Foster carved a niche for himself by teaming with Homer Richards of Phoenix Union to win the Arizona Junior closed doubles. Jerry also was runner up in the singles at the same meet.

America's Favorite Game

A veteran baseball team represented North Phoenix in 1942, and that it fared exceptionally well at America's favorite game was evidenced by the strong season showing made. Coach Clare Van Hoorebeke's classy club coasted through the 22 games of the regular schedule to gain a round 20 victories and two championships.

An un-blemished record gave the Mustangs undisputed possession of the West Central District trophy. First place in the Class A standings was shared by North Phoenix and Tucson.

North Phoenix High's Mustangs answered the annual spring call to "Play ball!" by enthusiastically tying into a formidable schedule, and with such success that they seemed headed for an undefeated season. But two late-season mishaps proved they could be beaten. Tucson's top-notch Badgers first turned the trick with a 5-4 extra-inning edging that tied up the big five standings, and North Phoenix was bested, 7-4, in a non-conference game at Florence.

It was a different story for the other clubs faced by the Mustangs. The North High horsehidiers emerged victorious in games with Phoenix Colored, Coolidge, Litchfield, Casa Grande, Phoenix Indian, Glendale, Mesa, Phoenix Union, Tolleson, St. Mary's, Yuma, Peoria, Tempe, and Buckeye High Schools.

With the state's top pitching staff, power to spare at the plate, and a smooth infield combination, North High's nine entered the State Baseball Tournament at Tucson ranked as co-favorites with the defending Tucson Badgers. After eliminating Miami in the first round, 10-1, the Mustangs' faced the Old Pueblo team for the championship. After trailing up to the seventh inning, the Badgers tied the count and went on to a hard-fought and heart-breaking 3-2 victory in the ninth to gain their fourth straight state title.

SECOND TEAM BASEBALL—Preparing for future varsity service, North Phoenix' second team swept through the season with five wins out of seven. The two defeats were in varsity competition. Phoenix Union Grays were bested three times and Mesa Bunnies twice in the second team battles.

It Takes Plenty Of Training

Steady improvement in individual and team performances marked the third season for the Mustangs in track and field.

Tune-up meets with Glendale and Mesa provided initial tests for Coach Rollie Caldwell's thin-clads, although they lost both contests. Never accumulating enough points to take more than third place, the Mustangs, however, showed strength in the Class A meet and the Mesa relays.

In the Greenway Field Day meet, April 11, North Phoenix placed third in Class AA, overshadowed by the powerful Tucson Badgers and the winning Phoenix Union Coyotes. However, special honors came to Frank Miller, who took first in both the 440 and 880, setting new meet records for both events. His quarter mile time of 51 seconds flat eclipsed by one-tenth of a second the former record. In the half, Miller clipped three-tenths of a second off the record he himself set in 1940, establishing a new mark of 2:01. Howard Moore took first in the broad jump. In Class AC, North High walked off with first place honors.

At Tucson on May 1, North High garnered another third place at the State Track Meet. Howard Moore and Frank Miller set a pair of new records while gaining most of the points for the Mustangs. A new mark of 50 seconds flat for the quarter-mile was set by Miller, while Moore established a new pole vault record with a leap of 12 feet, 4¾ inches. Miller's time of 2:01.8 in the 880 gave him first place for that event, and Moore soared over at 5 feet, 10 inches, to take first in the high jump.

They Add Color

Cooperation Plays A Big Part

One of the most active organizations at North High is the Girls' Athletic Association. In this club the girls not only learn the whys and wherefores of baseball, basketball, volleyball, and tennis, but also learn the importance of cooperation and good sportsmanship in all other dealings as well as in sports. Many friendships are formed in this club that last throughout high school.

To become a member, a girl goes out for after school sports, and when she has participated in three sports she is eligible to wear the club pin.

With a membership of about one hundred and five, the G.A.A. is one of the largest clubs in the school. Not only was it active at North High but its members represented the school at various athletic contests throughout the valley and state.

Miss Catherine Wilkinson and Mrs. Mary MacMorran are co-sponsors of the organization.

G.A.A. MANAGERS AND OFFICERS — Betty Cheeseman, Dixie Kiger, Betty Blackwell, Lynette Campbell, Betty Jo Pace, Jean Clair Hutsell, Mary Lou Johnson, Elaine McFate.

They Direct Themselves

Girls not wishing to take part in six outdoor sports are given the chance to earn their small letter by becoming a member of the dance club.

Mrs. Mary MacMorran originated the club and is the sponsor.

The G.A.A. officers and managers are elected by the club and hold office for one year. They keep the records for the club, seeing that girls get credit for the sports, as well as make arrangements for some of the intra-mural games.

Ability And Skill Count

Nine girls this year represented North High at tennis matches throughout the state. Unlike other sports, matches were played all during the year.

The team had a successful season, winning over Yuma, Tucson, Miami, Mesa, Tempe, and Prescott. Most complete victory of the year was over Miami, as they defeated them 7-0.

Number one player was Katherine Kraft, a sophomore, Lyda Branham played number two, and Lois Curry was number three.

Lois Curry and Lyda Branham played doubles at Tucson University week, while Katherine Kraft played singles at that tournament.

Tumbling is the first six weeks' sport offered during the year. Girls learn the art of tumbling during this time. At the end of the term twelve girls are chosen for the all-star team.

All-Stars

Speedball and volleyball each last six weeks during the year. During this time the girls going out for the sports play against each other and at the end of each sport, an all-star team is chosen. Members of the all-star teams are given special recognition in the G.A.A.

As an incentive to the girls going out for after school sports, awards are given each year. A girl earns her small letter for participation in six sports, a large letter for twelve sports, a gold athletic pin for eighteen sports, and an athletic ring for twenty-four sports. When a large letter is earned, the owner can wear the school athletic sweater.

What Won't They Do Next?

Upper picture—42-46-8-hike! Certainly no game participated in by the North High boys' football team was more vigorous and packed with unexpected happenings than the game played by members of the G.A.A. during an outdoor assembly. Their new formations were an inspiration, no doubt, to Coach Rollie Caldwell.

Inset, Coach Catherine Wilkinson not only very capably coached both teams but also broadcast the game. Lower left: Their swing is deadly . . . their eye is steady . . . and can they slide! Lower right: Net ball's no good, so hit it hard, girls!

Dearest Sonny,

It's really been wonderful knowing you!
You've been swell to me of the dumbest freshmen that ever came to N. P. & S. You must have gotten awfully discouraged with me, I sure pulled every bone in the book. I only hope you don't regret it.
I know I'll never regret knowing you and I hope that we never, ever quarrel. We've done all right so far, just a few minor disagreements! Well, all right, so we have had a few major fights, but after all, who doesn't fight?
With all your many, many girl friends
I hope you'll be able to remember a

Are Ya Havin' Any Fun?

Most students at North High this year did! Dances, parties, meetings, plays, athletic events — all added up to a grand total of fun. Lunch hours were the social spots of the day. It was then that romances were hatched, ripened, and withered. Rumors were circulated, dates made and broken, new friendships cemented. For above all, friendship prevailed on the campus. And among friends there's always fun and laughter. Yep! It was a grand year for the Mustangs.

Your Future.....

Now is the time to decide.

When you're planning your future, keep college in mind. And when you're thinking of college, investigate the advantages of attending Phoenix Junior College...

Living at home, you'll save money.

You'll be among your friends. Hundreds of graduates of Phoenix high schools will enroll here next fall.

You'll enjoy the benefits of a new campus, modern equipment, and an outstanding faculty.

Consider starting your college work this summer if you would like to complete your course in less than four years. Inquire at the Registrar's Office for full information.

-Sam-
It's been swell
knowing you this year.
I hope we'll still be friends next year.

PAN AMERICAN—This is a posed picture of the cast. The Pan American assembly was much, much livelier . . . Maybelle Irving taps out a tune on the marimba . . . Senores and senoritas take a siesta . . . Boots Glatfelter woos Ferdinand — and that's no bull . . . Judges and contestants line up for the birdie.

DANCING AND PRANCING: Cheek to cheek . . . Grand March at the Blue and Silver . . . Prize pandal Prize waltzers . . . Juniors hotfootin' it at their Carnival Dance . . . "He must be somewhere — where is he?" . . . The Social Committee. Standing: Miss Jewell Mitchell, Jim St. Claire, Beaty O'Hair. Seated: Beverly Burrall, Eileen Quinn, Patty Sullivan, Herbie Sledd.

Dear Sam,
Well, guys, despite all the fight & fusses, we had, we had fun too, didn't we? I wish I could be around next year, ask me about all the gossip, throw water on me, get me out of the office and have me down the halls!!

So you could visit me on Hotsue, read all my notes,
ask me about all the gossip, throw water on me, get me out of the office and have me down the halls!!

Anyhow, Sam, it's been swell knowing you and maybe I'll see you around next year - Hopalong!
So long for this time and the best of luck & happiness for you. I really mean that!

So long, guys,
Sanky
